

“HOW POVERTY SEPARATES PARENTS AND CHILDREN: A CHALLENGE TO HUMAN RIGHTS”

Posted on 15 December 2005

In the face of poverty, parents can show unstinting resilience and courage on behalf of their children, making enormous efforts to safeguard relationships and keep the family together. This study shows what ATD Fourth World has learnt about the fight against poverty from its grassroots action with families, and from that of other NGOs, in the Philippines, Burkina Faso, Haiti, Guatemala, the United Kingdom and the United States.

Documents

Download this report

Summary of this report